With the objective of maintaining our investors, employees, office directors, agents and policyholders duly informed, we communicate:

Yesterday, the “El Financiero” newspaper published an article in which it states that a private capital fund of German origin is undertaking the analysis and due diligence of Quálitas Controladora with the objective of purchasing the Company for itself or for a third party. Quálitas informs that it is not undertaking such analysis or due diligence with any fund, and that it does not have any information on this matter.

In Quálitas, transparency and adequate disclosure of information are guiding principles of our Corporate Governance, which ensure our investors and all the Quálitas team an honest and equitable treatment.
